On September 30, 1891 she was united in marriage to H. M. Moore in the Methodist Church of Doe Hill. They were the parents of three daughters and one son. Warren died in 1924 and the daughters yet survive: Mrs. O. J. Campbell of Dunmore; Mrs W. F. McElwee, of Dunmore: and Mrs. R. M. Gum of South Charleston. There are also nine grand-children and three great-grand children.

Her fidelity to the higher spiritual values of life is exemplified in the fact that she was a member of Women Society of Christian Service for forty-five years, being the president of this organization for the same period. During this time she was only absent on two occasions.

These are but few of the biographical facts of her life and which in no way portray the full illuminative radiance of her presence to those who knew her. Her greatest life achievement was not in the realm of professional or vocational success but in the more vital area of human relations. Here, truly was an artist's life—an artist that could paint the most touching morals of loving kindness from which radiated only beams of sparking sunshine in which never a blotch of bleakness was ever portrayed. This artistic issuance from her life stemmed from her acceptance of "The Word as a lamp unto her feet, and a light unto her path."

Those with whom she was closely associated have had a wondrous opportunity to live close to a life which had been influenced generously with a glow of the presence of the divine. The lives that she has aided in molding have been set on a firm foundation fortified by a flawless strength.

Those her relatives, and those her friends, continue into the future by the acceptance of the words expressed by the great English poet:

"Our cause of sorrow must not be measured by her worth, for then it hath no end."

Judy Lynn Sheets Moore

Judy Lynn Sheets Moore, 22, of Marlinton, died Saturday, July 31, 1976, in a car accident one-fourth mile north of Marlinton on U. S. 219.

Mr. Moore was formerly from Marlinton.

REV. GEORGE P. MOORE

Rev. George P. Moore died at his home at Edray about seven o'clock Saturday morning, April 22, 1922. His age was eighty-three years and three months, having been born January 9, 1839. His death was due to the infirmities of extreme age following an attack of influenza. The funeral was conducted from the Edray Church on Monday afternoon, and the burial was in the Edray cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. C. A. Powers, assisted by Rev. F. B. Wyand and Rev. H. H. Orr. One of the largest congregations ever seen on a like occasion in the Edray community assembled to pay honor to his memory.

George P. Moore was the son of Robert Moore and his wife Eliza Bruffey. He had two brothers, Davis and Clark Moore. His parents and brothers moved to Iowa about war times. His nearest surviving relatives are some nephews and nieces in the West.

Mr. Moore was twice married. His first wife was Miss Elizabeth M. Poage, who died in 1865. His second wife was Mrs. Ruth J. Moore, nee Gay. She died about four years since.

Thus we note the passing of probably the best known citizen of Pocahontas county. His life was well rounded out. Preacher, farmer, merchant, banker and public officer—he did with his might what his hand found to do. With length of days, riches and honor was he blessed.

Mr. Moore was the oldest postmaster in point of service in the United States. Appointed postmaster at Edray by President Pierce at the age of seventeen years, he served continuously, with the exception of a year or two during President Cleveland's first administration, to the day of his death. He was elected to the County Court and Board of Education at various times; and served as jury commissioner and county coroner for years and years.

At the organization of the Pocahontas Bank, Mr. Moore was chosen president, which position he held under the reorganization of the institution as the First National Bank, until the beginning of the present year. The officers of this bank were the pall bearers at his funeral.

The firm of Barlow & Moore, general merchants, began business in the year 1867. Mr. Moore's partner was the late Henry Barlow. For fifty-five years this firm has continued in business under his active supervision.

But all other activities aside this many sided man was most widely known as a minister of the gospel. Early in life he professed his faith in Christ, joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, and later was ordained a preacher. Few ministers have married and buried more Pocahontas people than he. Mr. Moore was an enthusiastic christian, ever letting his light shine; liberal in the support of every good cause, he left his impression upon those with whom he came in contact.

On leaving Logan County in 1922, he came to Watoga, where he has since made his home, and where he married the present Mrs. Murrell on December 29th, 1946.

During his lifetime he was very active in all the religious and civic activities of his community. He served as Postmaster at Watoga from September 1, 1929 until his death.

Not only will his loss be felt by his immediate family, but by the neighbors and friends of his community, and the acquaintances with whom he came in contact day by day.

My lips cannot tell how we miss him,
My heart can not tell what to say,
God only knows how we miss him
In a home that is lonesome today.

No morning dawns, no night returns,
But that we think of him;
Those left behind are very dear,
But none replaces him. X

DIED

Capt. J. W. Mathews

Capt. J. W. Mathews, one of Greenbrier county's oldest and best known citizens and business men on Anthonys creek, died on Tuesday afternoon, January 7, 1930, at his home at Alvon. He had been sick for some time and had lain in an unconscious condition since Friday last. He was 90 years old on November 9 last. Capt. Mathews served in the war between the states and was one of the few surviving Confederate veterans. His wife, who is several years younger than he, and a son, Charles F., of Alvon, survive him. He was a member of the M. E. Church, South. Captain Mathews had always expressed a desire to be buried in a Confederate uniform, of which he was very proud, and his last wishes were carried out when he was laid to rest on Wednesday afternoon. Rev. N. W. Russell conducted the funeral service.

In accordance with the last wishes of Capt. Mathews his body was drawn to the grave in a two-horse wagon. Captain Jacob Warwick Mathews was born in Pocahontas county on November 9, 1839, and was a son of Samuel G. and Naomi Hudson Mathews. At the age of 21 he enlisted as a private in Co. I, 25th Virginia Infantry of the Confederate army and saw service in many of the historic battles of the Civil war. He was one of the so-called "Immortal 600," having when a prisoner of war at Charleston, S. C., been placed with a number of other Confederate prisoners to the number of about 600 between the federal defenses and attacking Confederates and being exposed to the fire of the attacking Confederate army. Fortunately the danger of the prisoners was discovered in time to avert any casualties. There were three other Greenbrier county prisoners of war among these prisoners. They were Col. Ford, J. Wash McDowell and Dr. Lewis. Capt. Mathews was the last of the group from Greenbrier.

The deceased was one of the best known men of the county; he was in the mercantile business at Alvon until about ten years ago, when old age forced him to retire from active business, although he continued to manage his large farm until the time of his recent illness three weeks ago.

He enjoyed robust health during his life time, never failing to attend every Confederate reunion and was buried in his uniform. Death came to him at ripe old age, claiming him a grand old man, from the ever-thinning ranks of the Confederacy.

Besides his wife and son he is survived by a sister, Miss Minerva Mathews, aged 81 years, who lived with him.—Greenbrier Independent.

Court is Adjourned

RALPH MOODY

ALASKA COURT SYSTEM

FORMER LEGISLATOR AND RETIRED Superior Court Judge Ralph Moody, 81, died Feb. 19 in Anchorage.

Moody was raised in a poor Alabama farming family. While Moody was in high school, his father gave him a calf to raise. When the calf was grown, Moody rented it out to a next-door neighbor for milking. This milk money paid Moody's tuition at the University of Alabama Law School where he received his doctorate of law.

In 1946 Moody moved to Juneau to work for the Office of Price Administration, but within two weeks he had landed another job as an attorney with the Army Corps of Engineers. The young lawyer soon entered state politics, first serving in the territorial and state Legislatures, and then as majority leader of the first state Senate.

In 1960, Governor Bill Egan appointed Moody to the position of state attorney general. Two years later, Egan appointed him to the Superior Court bench, a post he held for 23 years.

Moody quickly gained the reputation of a by-the-book judge. He scoffed when anyone suggested poverty was an excuse for committing a crime.

"I don't buy that," he once said. "You shouldn't get off because you're poor any more than you should get off if you're rich."

He also was tough on repeat offenders who tried to use divine salvation as a cover. In a national magazine interview, Moody recalled what he told a criminal up for sentencing in his court years ago:

"Well, I've been sitting on this bench a good many years, and a lot of you fellows find God there [in jail]," Moody said. "However, he never seems to accompany you when you leave, so I've concluded that he lives there, and I'm sending you back where he can keep an eye on you."

Seaborn Buckalew, a longtime Moody friend and fellow judge, once said: "A defendant who stood in front of him would have a moment of terror. He was no-nonsense—straight as an arrow."

Our Army and Navy Boys

Miss Eleanor McLaughlin, of Huntersville received this letter from her sister, Lieutenant Decima McLaughlin, who was serving with the United States Army Nurses' Corps in Italy. This letter was written just ten days before her death on October 6, following an operation:

Somewhere.
September 26, 1943.

Dearest Sis and all:

Well, here I am again and sure wish I was there having a talk with you all, telling you these things I am unable to write you. It is now 7:00 p. m. here and it is so dark. We go on duty at 7:30 so it seems as if it is in the middle of the night. We have been awful busy this week; worked 11 hours a couple of days, so you can figure we are working some now. It is a pleasure though to be busy for one don't have time to think.

I wrote to Jim and also to his mother. I received mail once this week but it was all old mail. I got one letter from Azel. I was so glad to hear from him. I wrote to him—even though I could not say where I am.

There is a movie tonight—so that's a break, although I am not going. Guess I will go to bed as usual at 8:30 p m. Sure do get plenty of sleep these nights.

It is raining now. It sure will be a mess if it rains much, and the raining season will soon start. Then I guess we will wear coveralls all the time and big heavy shoes. I do not think I'll like that.

I hope you all are well. I am fine so far. Tell everyone hello for me. Sure hope I hear from you real soon. Love and kisse to all.

Dessie.

PRIVATE JOE McLAUGHLIN

Co. F. 316th. Inf. A. E. F.
15th. December, 1918.

From Commanding Officer, Co. F. 316 Infantry.

To Mr. Elmer McLaughlin, Dunmore, W. Va.

Subject: Joe E. McLaughlin.

Pvt. Joe McLaughlin was killed in action October 10, 1918 while his Company was holding a front line sector at Wadonville, which is a villag situated north of St Mihiel about 25 miles. He was platoon runner and while carrying a message, a high explosive shell struck very close to him, causing a very severe concussion. He delivered his message and then fell dead.

No soldier of his regiment met a braver death and we often remember his heroism and devotion to his duty.

He was buried in about the centre of this village by some of his comrades who were under shell fire at the time, and a suitable cross marks his grave.

Joe was a good boy and he was well liked by everyone of the company and we were very sorry to lose him.

Dwight Cook,
1st Lt. 316th. Inf. A. E. F.
Commanding Co. F.

He heard humanity's clear call,
He gave his life, he gave his all,
In deadly battle line,
The silent stars in love look down,
Where lies this loyal son;
In frost and dew they weave a crown,
Of honor he has won.

December brings sad memories,
Of a loved one gone to rest—
Those who think of you today,
Are the ones who loved you best.

The world may change from year to year
And friends from day to day,
But never will the one we love,
From memory pass away.

Sleep on, dear mother, take your rest,
We loved you well, but God knew best.

MRS. MARY McLAUGHLIN

Mrs. Mary Margaret McLaughlin, widow of the late Andrew M. McLaughlin, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. D. Arbuckle, at Maxwelton, Greenbrier county, on Thursday night, January 15, 1925. Her age was 78 years having been born October 5, 1846. Since last fall her health has not been the best. Her death was due to weakness incident to age.

On Saturday the funeral was from the Maxwelton church. The service was conducted by Rev. G. W. Nickell of the Frankford Presbyterian church. The pall bearers were her six nephews, J A McLaughlin, E F. McLaughlin, Mitchell D McLaughlin, Andrew Price, Dr. Ligon Price and Calvin W. Price. Her grave is beside that of her husband, Andrew McLaughlin who died about twelve years ago.

Mrs. McLaughlin was the last of the large family of the late James Atley Price and Margaret Poage Price, who lived where Marlinton is now. Mrs. McLaughlin spent more than half her life at Marlinton. In 1891 the family moved to a large estate five miles north of Lewisburg. The influence of Mrs. McLaughlin and her family has been a blessing to this whole community.

May 14, 1867 she became the wife of the late Andrew McLaughlin and she did him good all the days of his life, and the heart of her husband did safely trust in her. The surviving children of this union are Rev. H. W. McLaughlin, D D., of Raphine, Virginia; Mrs. J. D. Arbuckle, of Maxwelton; Lee P. McLaughlin, of Hillsboro; Mrs. H. H. Arbuckle and Elgar H. McLaughlin, of Maxwelton and Mrs J. M. Massie, of Hampden Sidney, Virginia. These with husbands and wives and children gathered around her place of resting. No children ever had a better mother and they arise up and call her blessed.

Always a devoted, active christian, she had been a member for a life time of the church of her fathers, the Presbyterian. Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin were church builders, and they were in no community long before a church and Sunday School would be established through their influence.

Mrs. McLaughlin lived to a ripe old age but she never became old. Her bodily strength failed, but she maintained her strong mind to the last hour. Her friends and companions were of all ages from toddling childhood to tottering old age. She shared in the joys and sorrows of them all. She lived all her life for others. Her active mind and busy hands were so filled with thought and care for others that any uncertainty of the future or trial of the past must needs care for itself. By her the tear of a child never went unnoticed any more then the supposedly deeper sorrow of those of mature years. The sharing of others burdens became her part in early life. As a young girl she saw a brother shot down and other brothers carried to prison by an invading army. She was the comfort and stay of her broken parents. She began her married life in a countryside devastated by war. It was her lot to suffer the trials and disappointments incident to a long life in this world, much of it during a hard period of our country's history. The effect of it all was to ripen and strengthen and deepen a naturally sweet disposition and develop strong, abiding faith in God

To this writer Aunt Mary has always been an ideal woman. She is in mind when I read the thirty-first chapter of Proverbs. She performed so well all the duties in the sphere of womanhood.

"Many daughters have done virtuously, but thou excellest them all. A woman that feareth the Lord she shall be praised."

Mr. McNeel was educated in the local schools and attended Washington and Lee University, and graduated in law from the University of Virginia in the year 1897. He practiced his profession until ill health forced him to retire.

He was descended from pioneer stock, a direct descendant of John McNeel, Revolutionary soldier, and pioneer of Pocahontas County.

He was Ruling Elder in the Presbyterian Church for thirty years. He was also a student of the Bible and loved his church and all its work; and was a modest, sincere and earnest Christian.

He was a Mason for over fifty years, as a member of the Huntersville Lodge, No. 65, and the Hillsboro Lodge, No. 121.

He was active in public service. In his early life, he served as Prosecuting Attorney for Pocahontas County for the years 1901-1904. He was also Mayor of the Town of Marlinton. He had been a Commissioner of the Circuit and County Courts for over thirty years. In World War I, he was Secretary of the Local Draft Board and he had served as Divorce Commissioner for many years.

His death will be regretted by his host of friends throughout Pocahontas County

IN MEMORY

Thomas Summers McNeel

By J. E. Buckley

The Honorable Thomas Summers McNeel, president of the Pocahontas County Bar Association and for more than 52 years as practicing attorney at this Bar; finished his duties on May 23, 1950, when his soul was called to the Court of the Supreme Architect of the Universe where all matters in difference are res adjucata.

Thomas Summers McNeel was born at Millpoint, Pocahontas County, West Virginia, on October 15, 1872, the son of Isaac McNeel and Miriam Nancy Beard McNeel. He was one of four children, the others being his twin brother, Doctor H. W. McNeel, of Hillsboro, Marigold McNeel Browning of Marlinton; and J. Lanty McNeel of Millpoint. He was a direct descendent of the pioneer John McNeel, who settled at Hillsboro, as a first inhabitant in the year 1765, and whose descendants for 185 years have been leaders in all the worthwhile activities of the Valley of the Greenbrier.

Mr. McNeel attended the public schools of his community, the Hillsboro Academy, Washington and Lee University and was graduated from the Law School of the University of Virginia, with a degree of L. L. B. in June 1897, and on October 5, 1897, he was admitted to practice in Marlinton before Judge J. M. McWhorter. Upon his admission, he began active practice of his chosen profession, which he continued for a greater length of time than any other member of the Pocahontas County Bar.

On July 8, 1903, Mr. McNeel was married to Mary Frances McNulty of Highland County, Va.; to which union was born one child, Margaret Nancy, Mrs. Richard F. Currence of Marlinton.

Mr. McNeel served as Proecuting Attorney of Pocahontas County from 1901 to 1905, as well as several terms as mayor of Marlinton; he was Secretary of the local draft board for the first World War, and was serving as Commissioner of Accounts, Commissioner in Chancery and Divorce Commissioner of the Circuit Court at the time of his death, which positions he had occupied for many years.

The deceased had been a member of the Masonic Lodge for more than 50 years and was Past master of Marlinton Lodge No. 127, and a Knight Templer; he had been an Elder of the Marlinton Presbyterian Church for more than 30 years and had been a life long worker in the Church of his Fathers.

Mr. McNeel was a gentleman of polished manner, excellent company and a welcome addition to any group. In the practice of his profession, he was kind, sympathetic and ethical in all his associations. In politics he was a Democrat and for most of his life took an active part in the conduct of his party's affairs in the County and State.

In the passing of Thomas Summers McNeel, this world has lost to the next an able lawyer, a kind gentleman and an honest man, who lived an active and useful life for the betterment of his community and services to others, and his example will long be remembered by and be an inspiration to all those who were privileged to know him well.

At the request of the Pocahontas County Bar Association.

Mrs. Nellie McGowan

Mrs Nellie E. McGowan was born March 31, 1877, and died on Sunday, April 6, 1941, at Shady Springs; aged 54 years and 6 days. She was a daughter of the late Nickson and Mary Mann McCoy, of Hillsboro. She is survived by her husband, S. L. McGowan, and one son, Wilbur, of Shady Springs and one daughter, Mrs Eunice Williams, of Beckley. Of her father's family two sisters, Mrs Neda McMillion, of Flint, Michigan, and Mrs Nora Jackson, of Hillsboro, and one brother, Albert McCoy, of Radford, Virginia, survive.

The funeral service was conducted from the Hillsboro Methodist Church by Rev. L. S. Shires and interment in the old Droop Church Cemetery.

Mrs McGowan was converted in her youth and lived a truly good life given to hospitality; possessing an unusual amount of patience, kindness and love and will be greatly missed in her home and community.

On October 25, 1910 he was married to Miss Hazel Fletcher. To this union were born three children, Harrell, Nancy and Kathleen. Their home was characterized by devotion, sympathy and kindness.

He grew up in the atmosphere of a thoroughly Christian home. Under the ministry of Rev. Charles Lynch he was converted and united with the Methodist church at Hillsboro on September 11, 1903. For about twenty-five years he was a Steward in the Hillsboro church. He was a man of faith, modest and retiring in his disposition, yet possessing deep and abiding convictions.

As a neighbor he was unselfish, accommodating and ever ready to be of service to his friends. He thought of others, not of himself.

He loved his Bible and magnified its teachings in his daily life. His definite Christian faith was his comfort and assurance during his final illness. His kindness, gentleness and Christian manhood won for him a large place in the hearts of the people of his community. The church and community have sustained a real loss in his death. Beside his immediate family he leaves to mourn his loss two brothers, Burke, of Cass, and Richard, of Hillsboro. The benediction of his consecrated life rests upon his loved ones.

The funeral service was conducted at the Hillsboro church, Friday, October 7th at 2 p. m. by his pastor, Rev. L. S. Shires, assisted by Rev. J. E. Knight of the Presbyterian church. Interment was made, with Masonic rites, in the Brick Church Cemetery.

William H. McCloud died at his home near Marlinton September 22, 1921, of organic heart trouble. He had been in good health. When he went to bed he said he had a slight pain in his breast, but he went to sleep and slept until about two o'clock when he made a slight noise which aroused his wife. She called him but he did not answer; she became frightened and awoke the oldest daughter and they did everything they could think of but could not arouse him. He never got his breath after his wife first heard him, nor awoke out of sleep nor struggled or made a move, but [illegible]as gone in the twinkling of an eye.

He was born near Cloverlick February 23, 1864, and died September 22, 1921, aged 57 years and 7 months. He is the son of Stephen and Nancy McCloud. His brothers are Clark McCloud and Jim McCloud; his sister is Mrs. Jim Bird.

He was married to Mary Irvine to whom were born twelve children—Bernard, of Ohio; Mrs. Virgie Gilbert, Spring Creek; Edward, Slaty Fork; Mrs. Mamie Dilley, Adrian; George, of Warwick, and seven unmarried—Eva, John, Lena, Grace, Goldie Norman and Jessie.

He believed in the Dunkard church but never united with it. He was a good neighbor and was liked by all. We extend our sympathy to the bereaved family.

A loving one from us is gone,
A voice we loved is stilled
A place is vacant in our home
That never can be filled

God in his wisdom has recalled
The boon his love has given,
And though the body slumbers here,
The soul is safe in heaven.

Mrs. H. W. McNeel

1880 - 1946

The Hillsboro community was saddened by the sudden and unexpected passing on Tuesday, May 7, of Mrs. H. W. McNeel, at the Laird Memorial Hospital, Montgomery, West Virginia.

Elizabeth Edgar McNeel, the daughter of Captain Alfred Malory and Lydia Ann Edgar, was born at the Edgar homestead in the Little Levels of Pocahontas County, February 8, 1880. She attended a private school owned by Mrs. Georgia M. Shearer, and the Hillsboro Academy, and finished her training at Valley Seminary, Waynesboro, Virginia. On April 12, 1904, she was united in marriage to Dr. H. W. McNeel, of Mill Point; they established their home in Hillsboro and have lived there since. There were five children born to this union, Isaac of Charleston, Alfred Edgar of Hillsboro, Dorothy See of Cincinnati, Ohio, Harriett Ann and John Paul, at home. They and her husband survive her. She also leaves one brother, George P. Edgar, and one sister, Mrs. J. Moffett McNeel, both of Hillsboro, and four grandchildren.

On August 5, 1995, at the age of fifteen, Mrs. McNeel joined the Oak Grove Presbyterian Church under the pastorate of the Reverend David S. Sydenstricker, D. D. Never, during the years to come, did her love for and devotion to the faith of of her fathers lose its vigor or cease to be the chosen field of her chief activities outside her home. In her church she was active as a leader, organist and Sunday School teacher, and she held important and responsible offices in the Auxiliary, Presbyterial and Synodical.

However, her activities were by no means confined to the church. She was broad in her sympathies and was interested in every movement that had for its object the improvement or the welfare of her community. She was a loyal and faithful member of the local chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy, being eligible by reason of her father having been a soldier and captain in Company "E", 27th Virginia Infantry of the Stonewall Brigade. She was active in the formation of and was a charter member in the Hillsboro chapter of the Order of the Eastern Star.

Mrs. McNeel was a women of the highest ideals and principles, and she had the courage of her convictions. She was endowed by nature with a keen mind, a deep religious spirit, musical ability, and she was a source of strength and encouragement to her family and friends. She was universally respected and her passing is widely mourned.

The flower girls, Ruth Doyle, Anna Lee Curry, Jaunita Bussard, Maude Doyle, Vallie Beverage, Grace Ray, Clara Shinaberry, Arlene Lindsay, Geneva Smith, Leta Adams, Lucille Rao and Goldie Gibson.

George will be greatly missed by his family and his host of friends. He was a lovable character, to know him was to love him.

He is not dead, he is just away. Although no longer with us, his example and spiritual influence abide.

Sweet friend, they tell me thou art dead.
Art sleeping in earth's lowly bed;
And many hearts are sad.
Thy kindly voice, thy pleasant face,
Thy gentle ways; all, all we trace,
These memories of the past.
Jesus has taken to his breast,
The friend we love, and he is blessed:
God's holy will be done.
Some time in heaven we shall meet,
The friend who made this life more sweet;
The friend we mour today.

A friend, R.

J. B. Orndorff

Jesse Brown Orndorff, of Arbovale, died in Elkins Convalescent Home, January 8, 1971, at the age 98 years, 1 month, and, 16 days. Book

He had lived most of his life in Arbovale as a successful farmer and owner and operator of a water power grist mill doing custom grinding of grain. He was considered an expert saw mill man of both hard and soft wood lumber. His service of this nature reached as far as the State of Massachusetts as a sawyer for Glen Galford of government timber that was blown down during the unusual wind of 1939.

As a young man, while working in the lumber camps of West Virginia, the snow became so deep the men decided to stay in the camp over the weekend. They went to a near by revival meeting. The Lord spoke peace to his soul at what was then called the old mourners bench. "He calmly arose and came back for me," says Henry Brown, a life long friend and roommate at the Convalescent Home at the time of his passing, "and I being his first convert for the Lord, was saved before reaching the altar of prayer."

"J. B.," as he was affectionately called by his friends, remained faithful to the Lord to the end. He was the instigator, promoter, and founder of the White Pines Holiness Camp at Arbovale. While remaining a member of the Arbovale Methodist Church all his life, he enjoyed seeing people saved and took part in all denominatons of this nature.

Preceding him in death were his first wife, Mrs. Cora Ella Ervine Orndorff, one son, Odel Orndorff, one daughter, Gladys one brother, Oscar Orndorff, three sisters, Mrs. Mollie Fitzgerald, Mrs Maggie McCalpin, and Mrs. Esta Crewley.

He leaves his devoted wife, Mrs. Ruby Orndorff; seven daughters, Mrs. J. H. (Stella) Finch and Mrs. Stanley (Marie) Leist, both of Ronceverte, Miss Lila Orndorff and Mrs. Lyle (Elouise) Friel, both of Waynesboro, Virginia, Mrs. Ivan (Genevieve) Sharp, of Nitro, Mrs. Ollie (Gaynelle) Hevener, of Lititz, Pennsylvania, and Mrs. Roy (Jewell) Burkholder, of Philadelphia. Pennsylvania; two sons, Dwight Moody Orndorff, of Arbovale, and Ray W. Orndorff, of Hot Springs, Virginia; twenty-five grandchildren, fifty-seven great-grandchildren and one great-great granddaughter, and a host of friends.

Dr. Susan Alexander Price

Susan A. Price, M. D., elder daughter and fourth child of Rev. William T. Price and Anna L. Randolph Price was born January 5, 1875, near Harrisonburg, Virginia, and died November 15, 1950, at her home in Williamsburg, Virginia.

At the age of twelve years her parents moved to Marlins Bottom, West Virginia, (now Marlinton,) the ancestral home of her father, and where the family has resided since. There remain of her father's family two brothers and a sister: Dr. Norman R. Price, Calvin W. Price and Mrs. Anna V. Hunter, all of Marlinton.

Her early education consisted of home tutoring by her parents, (both classical scholars) and extensive reading. She also attended the old Female Seminary, in Lewisburg. Entering the Woman's Medical College of Baltimore, Maryland, in 1900, she completed the four year course of study and graduated M. D. in 1904, and was licensed to practice medicine in 1905, following a year's internship in a hospital in Baltimore. For nearly thirty years Dr. Price served as hospital staff physician: first in the State Hospital at Weston, and later at the Eastern State Hospital in Williamsburg, Virginia. She was also a good musician and a talented writer; many of her articles appearing in The Pocahontas Times and other papers, magazines and journals. Dr. Price was never married. From childhood she was a professing, consistent, working Christian.

While residing in Williamsburg, Dr. Price became interested in and bought the old 18th century house known as the Dinwiddie Property, later exchanging it for the Griffith House, both of the Colonial Period of Williamsburg. Both houses were acquired by the Reconstruction, financed by the Rockefellers and handsomely restored, and are among the show places of Williamsburg. Dr. Price retained a life interest. It is worth noting that of a number of persons retaining a life estate in restored historical buildings in Williamsburg, Dr. Susan Price at the time of her de was the sole survivor.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lillian Price, and a sister, Mrs. Carl (Jean) Stockwell, of Paducah, Kentucky.

Tentative arrangements called for military services and burial in a National Cemetery in New Mexico or California.

CONSERVATIONIST and newspaper editor, Calvin W. Price, died unexpectedly yesterday at his home in Marlinton. A state forest was named for him in 1955.
(Gazette Photo)

Editor Cal Price Is Dead

MARLINTON, June 14 — (Special)—Calvin W. Price, a country editor who was "sinfully proud" of receiving a monument during his lifetime, died unexpectedly today at his home here. He was 76.

Famed for his editing of the Pocahontas Times, he was an expert conservationist, an untiring census taker for the West Virginia bear, and a friend of three generations of Pocahontas County residents.

IN 1955, Calvin W. Price State Forest was named for him.

"I'm sinfully proud of it," he said then. "It's not often a man gets his tombstone before he dies."

He was a member of the West Virginia Press Association's 50-year club and once was honored on a nationally broadcast radio program as the typical country newspaper editor. He is one of the few men ever to receive a lifetime honorary membership in the Press Club of Charleston.

Mr. Price was born Nov. 22, 1880, in Rockingham County, Va. He was 15 when he started as an apprentice on the Pocahontas Times.

FOUR YEARS later he became a partner and in 1906 became sole owner.

Under his direction, the weekly publication evolved into a state institution.

Type is hand set and an ancient flat bed press is used to produce copies of the Times.

Mr. Price was a short, plump man, his eyes wrinkled with laugh lines. On a typical day, he would be in need of a shave and printer's ink would be smeared across his shirts and stained on his hands.

HE HAD the happy quality of never forgetting a name (for years he knew every resident of the county personally) and of being genuinely interested in all whom he met.

His stories of hunting and fishing were famous. For the major part of his life he wrote lovingly about nature, his affection based on profound knowledge.

He was a man of impeccable manners. Once, a friend asked him why he wasn't making corrections of obvious typographical errors in his newspaper.

"Oh, I couldn't do that," Price replied. "The lady who set this type would have her feelings hurt if I made any changes."

He was in good spirits and health until the time he died. His wife, Mrs. Mabel Milligan Price, was with him.

Other survivors are four daughters, Mrs. John Branch Green of Richmond, Va.; Mrs. Isaac McNeel of Charleston, Mrs. J. D. Hubard of Virginia Beach and Mrs. Basil Sharp of Marlinton; a brother, Dr. Norman Price of Marlinton; a sister, Mrs. F. R. Hunter of Marlinton; and 10 grandchildren.

The body is at Smith mortuary here.

Cal Price's Rite Slated

Editor Calvin W. Price is to be buried today at Marlinton, Pocahontas County, where he had reported community events for more than half a century.

Service for the 76-year-old country newsman will be at 4 p. m. EST in Marlinton Presbyterian Church, conducted by Rev. Ernest H. Flanikan. Burial will be in Mount View Cemetery at Marlinton.

Dr. Ligon Price

Dr. Ligon Price, 80, of Aspen, Colorado, died Saturday, December 14, 1974. He had had a bad heart condition for several years.

Born at Clover Lick he was a son of John C. and Mary Ann Williams Price. A brother, Dr. Emmett Price, preceded him in death.

He is survived by his wife, Lucille, and his sister, Mrs. Mary Margaret Barlow, of Marlinton.

Services were held Tuesday in the Episcopal Church in Aspen, of which he was a member. Interment with Masonic honors was in Denver on Wednesday.

Mrs Anna L. Price passed peace- away on the 19th day of Janua- 24, aged 87 years, 6 mohths and 3.

She was born on the 15th day of July, 1836, in Manchester, Virginia, a daughter of Henry Seth Ward Randolph and Deborah Perry Randolph. When a small child the family moved to Texas where they resided for a few years, and from there to Brooklyn, New York, where her girlhood days were passed. At the age of fifteen she was placed at school in Greensville County, Virginia, where she finished her education in the school conducted by Mrs Polly Jones, and after her graduation she became a teacher in that school. She was also a graduate of Abadie's Collegiate Institute, Brooklyn, New York. During the Civil War she came to Lexington, Virginia, as a teacher in the Ann Smith Academy, and was there when that town was besieged and captured. There she met the late Rev. Dr. Wm T. Price, a Presbyterian minister, and they were married near Richmond, where her family had come to live, on the 12th day of October, 1865.

After their marriage they first lived at Monterey, Virginia, and from there at Mount Clinton, Rockingham County, where sixteen years were spent at the manse at that place. In 1885, the family removed to Marlinton, Pocahontas County, where she resided at the time of her death.

The Rev. Dr. Price preceded her to the grave three years since, having lived to the great age of ninety-one years. The couple, though of mature age when married, lived together long past the golden wedding period, having passed fifty-six years in companionship.

There were seven children born of the marriage. The oldest, William Randolph Price, died at the age of four years and is buried in Rockingham County. Six children survive her: Dr J. W. Price, Andrew Price, Dr Susie A. Price, Dr Norman R. Price, Calvin W. Price and Mrs F. R. Hunter, all of whom maintain their residence here.

She was widely known as a writer. Her life that of a devoted wife and mother. Her Christianity a bright and shining light. And she was never excelled in loyalty to her friends. She outlived all her girlhood companions, but though far removed from most of them, she kept close in touch with them as one by one they drifted out upon that unknown sea that rolls round all the world. The last years of her life were especially peaceful and calm and bright, spent in the home of her devoted daughter, Mrs Anna Hunter. She rounded out a complete and perfect life, and sustained and soothed by an unfaltering trust she approached her grave, as one who wraps the drapery of her couch about her, and lies down to pleasant dreams.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING

In the electric storm on Friday afternoon, May 26, 1939, Okey Leland Peyton, aged 14 years was instantly killed by lightning on Little Mountain, west of Hillsboro, and Okey Lee Coleman, aged 14 years was so badly injured by the same stroke of lightning that he died from injuries and exposure on Monday, May 29, 1939.

The boys, close relatives, left their homes on Stamping Creek, to go ground hog hunting on Friday morning. They failed to return and some search was made for them on Saturday morning, but word came to the families the boys had been seen in an automobile at Frost. This proved to be misinformation, and on Sunday further search was made, but with no success. On Monday morning Watoga Citizens Conservation Camp was notified and forty enrollees with their leaders responded for a systematic search. By eleven o'clock young Coleman was found, barely alive; caught in a wire fence, sorely torn, and wounded and delirious. He died as the party was carrying him in.

The search continuing, about four o'clock in the afternoon the dead body of Okey Leland Peyton was found on the Joe McNeel place, nearly a mile from where the other boy was found. He had evidently suffered instant death from a bolt of lightning which had struck a sugar tree under which the boys were sheltering from the rain. It was apparent young Peyton had been leaning against the tree when it was struck. There was raveling from his shirt on the tree where the electric charge had left the tree to enter his body on its way to the ground. Evidently, death came instantly.

How young Coleman had made his way from the place of the tragedy to where he was found nearly a mile away can never be know. Hurt to the point of helplessness, he endured exposure from heat, cold and rain for almost seventy two hours before help came, and that too late.

Okey Leland Peyton, son of Henry W. and Verce May Coleman Peyton was born at Seebert, March 1, 1925; died May 26, 1939. Burial in the Sharp cemetery on Stamping Creek, Wednesday afternoon.

Dr. Ligon Price

Dr. Ligon Price, 80, of Aspen, Colorado, died Saturday, December 14, 1974, in Aspen Valley Hospital.

Dr. Price was born July 25, 1894, at Clover Lick. He was the son of the late John Calvin and Mary Ann Williams Price. A brother, Dr. Emmett W. Price, preceded him in death in 1965. He is survived by his wife, Lucille, and a sister, Mrs. Mary Margaret Barlow, of Marlinton, and many nieces and nephews.

His formal education took place in Greenbriers Military Academy. He earned his medical degree at St. Louis College of Physicians and Surgeons. Internship and surgery were spent at Presbyterian Hospital in Denver, Colorado, and later he was resident surgeon at Fairmont. He did graduate work in surgery in New York and Chicago.

He moved to Northwest Colorado in 1937 and practiced medicine and surgery in the hospitals of Hayden, Craig and Steamboat Springs, and later moved to Aspen.

Just recently he was awarded his fifty year pin as a physician by the Colorado Medical Society at its State Convention.

Dr. Price was active in Masonic orders. He was a member of the Blue Lodge for 59 years, a member of Shrine, Scottish Rite, Royal Arch Masons, Knights Templar and Commandery. He was also a member of the Elks Lodge in Aspen, The Society of the Sons of the Revolution in West Virginia, The Mt. Sopris Medical Society and a number of professional organizations.

He was well known as a taxidermist and an ornithologist.

Dr. Price, with a very few others including his wife, undertook the actual founding of a church, the Christ Episcopal Church, and knowing Aspen in the late 1950's it was a monumental task; through all of this he was acting Warden, then Warden and the last few years Warden Emeritus, and also treasurer.

The skill of a surgeon and the devotion of a beloved physician carried over into his life helping to build this church not only physically but spiritually as well.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, December 17th, at Christ Episcopal Church in Aspen. Masonic services were held at Fairmont Chapel and burial was in the Fairmont Mausoleum in Denver, Colorado.

Truly it can be said of him as it was said by the Psalmist "For one day in thy courts is better than a thousand elsewhere. I had rather be a door keeper in the house of my God than to dwell in the tents of ungodliness" Psalm 84. His life was an inspiration—his memory a benediction.

E. W. Price

Dr. Emmett William Price, 69, died at his home in Gadsden, Alabama, Thursday, December 9, 1965, after a long illness.

Beneath His watchful eye
His saints securely dwell
That hand which bears all nature up
Shall guard his children well.

God sent an angel from Heaven
Just to take our dear loved one away,
To bear her safely to Heaven
From this world of sorrow and pain

There's coming a time when we can go
To that home beyond the sky,
Glorious tho't, when we all get there
We'll never say good-bye.

All during her illness she was ever cheerful: always thinking that with the coming of spring her bodily ailments would be cured and that she would be able to go about as usual.

There is no human being so enshrined in humanity's affection like the name of mother and grandmother. It has the value of religion, pure and undefiled. Think of mother and grandmother and you think of home. They are the tenderest notes of the human heart. There is no influence in the world today like the influence of a christian mother and grandmother. There is only one absolutely and und unselfish God like love and that is the love of a mother and grandmother.

Anna Lee Ratliff

The body of Anna Lee Ratliff, aged four years, little daughter of Albert Ratliff, arrived at Marlinton on Snuday night. Last Wednesday the little girl was beaten to death by her aunt, Mrs Jeanette Grosso, in Detroit, Michigan. On Tuesday afternoon, the little body was laid to rest in the Cochran cemetery on Stony Creek beside the grave of her mother, Mrs. Mamie Townsend Ratliff, who passed away last August. The funeral service was held from the Edray Methodist Church by Rev. R. H. Skaggs.

Detroit, March 28—1946 A woman who first tried to involve her brother-in-law in a murder charge confessed tonight that it was she who had killed her four year old niece.

Mrs. Jeanette Grosso, 36, first told police that the little child's father, Albert Ratliff, of Marlinton, West Virginia, kicked and beat Anna Lee until she died.

Confronted with proof that Ratliff had never left Marlinton and could not have been in Detroit last night, she broke down and confessed.

Her confession police said, bore out the report of her husband, Michael, 53, that she has a sharp temper and often whipped the baby for disobedience.

Police said Mrs. Grosso slapped the child before supper yesterday and when the pretty little blonde girl sulked over her meal, Mrs. Grosso thrashed her with a belt containing a buckle.

An autopsy indicated that a savage blow on the girl's head had caused the death, and police said they were still hunting for the weapon.

When the child crying bitterly, went up to her bedroom to get her pajamas, Mrs. Grosso told police, she sulked and refused to come down for assistance in putting on the night garments.

Mrs. Grosso told police she went upstairs and found her weeping on the bed. In a fit of rage, Mrs. Grosso said she whipped her with a razor strap.

As she started to help her with her pajamas, Mrs. Grosso said she fainted and fell on top of her.

When she came to, the child was gasping. Mrs. Grosso told police she washed her face and while she did so the little girl col-ped and died. Mrs. Grosso [illegible] thought this was about [illegible] She called a neighbor. [illegible]rs later she called police [illegible] Ratliff was respon-

Anna was one of four children cast adrift in the world last fall when her mother died in West Virginia. She and her brother, James, 18 months old, came to Detroit to live with their mother's sister, Mrs Grosso. The other two went to their grandparents' home in West Virginia.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Mrs. Reed will be missed by all who knew her.

When grief is new it is hard to pray
"Thy will be done" is hard to say,
With heart and mind all numb with pain
We cry "Beloved, come back again."
But can we really ask that she
Return from God's eternity
To suffer and grow old in years?
The [illegible] cry is drowned in tears.
Death comes to all, one first must go,
If she were left she'd sorrow so;
It's better that I wait awhile,
God grant I do it with a smile.

Mrs. Dolly deKrafft Richardson died in Denmar State Hospital on Tuesday, February 5, 1974, six days short of her hundredth birthday next Monday, February 11.

Mrs. Richardson was a registered nurse and a native of Amelia Courthouse, Virginia. Her husband, Ed Richardson, died in 1946. He was a long time employee of C. J. Richardson's Store.

She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. N. W. deKrafft and a member of Christ Episcopal Church at Amelia.

Services will be held at 2:00 Thursday afternoon at the VanReenen Funeral Home, with burial at Amelia on Friday.

C. J. Richardson

Charles J. Richardson, aged seventy-eight years, died at his home in Marlinton late Sunday night, March 10, 1946. For a number of years he had been an invalid.

On Wednesday afternoon the funeral will be held from the Methodist church by his pastor, Rev. Harvey C. Porter. Interment in the family plot in Mountain View Cemetery.

Mr. Richardson is survived by his wife, Mrs. Annie L. Thomas Richardson and their seven children, Charles J., Craig, Jack, Frank, Mrs W. Roy Campbell, Mrs Reid Davis and Ann Richardson.

Mr. Richardson was a son of the late Charles J. and Maria Helmentoller Richardson, of Bath county. Of his father's family there remain his brothers George R., and Dr. Thomas and Rev. Frank Richardson, D. D.; his sisters, Mrs. Z. S. Smith and Mrs. W. T. Gover.

Mr. Richardson was a graduate of the College of Engineering at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute. However, he chose to pursue a business career as a merchant rather than to engage in the work of an engineer. Forty-six years ago he came to Marlinton and opened a hardware store. The venture proved a success from the start. Soon he was one of the leading business men of the Greenbrier Valley, and so remained until laid aside by failing health.

In religion Mr. Richardson was a member of the church of his fathers, the Methodist. For many years he served on the official board of his church, and he liberally supported its endeavors and institutions.

"A prince and a great man is fallen this day in Israel."

GEORGE R. RICHARDSON

George R. Richardson, 84, died in a Staunton, Va., hospital on Saturday, March 20, 1954. The deceased was a son of the late Charles J. and Maria Heimintoller Richardson of Jackson River, Va. E. Thomas, of Hot Springs, Virginia, and A. E. Thomas, of Marlinton.

Nearly fifty years ago Mr. and Mrs. Richardson established their home in Marlinton and engaged in the hardware business. The home was noted for its wholesome comfort and hospitality; the store an outstanding business success.

Thus is noted the passing of a devout, courageous christian whose only thought was "Service For Others."

Pall bearers were James McGraw, Charles Lovelace, Roy Kellison, Zed Smith, Jr., F. E. Smith and Theodore Moore.

Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for Thou art with me; Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort me.

Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life, and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever

"She looketh well to the ways of her household; her children rise up and call her blessed."

DOUBLE MURDER

On last Friday afternoon the bodies of Mrs Jennie Kittle Sharp, aged 72 years and her son, William Sharp, aged 42, were buried on Dry Branch of Elk, near their late home. The double service was conducted by Rev. O. N. Miles, assisted by Rev. S. H. Lapsley, in the presence of an immense crowd of people.

On last Wednesday afternoon, neighbors found the dead body of Mrs. Sharp in her home, with her head crushed from a blow,-and her son, William, in another room with his head crushed, barely alive. He died at the Pocahontas Memorial Hospital the next morning without ever regaining consciousness.

A little grandson, Raymond Sharp, aged 10 years, had disappeared; also one of the farm horses.

Sheriff Rodney Buzzard and State Trooper O. A. Harper, took the trail and on Thursday afternoon, Clyde Sharp, a grandson was arrested in a shanty at a brick yard at Elkins. He confessed to killing his grandmother and uncle by striking them on the head with a heavy iron bolt as they lay in their beds. He said he had struck his uncle first. He said his object was robbery. He got only about $17 overlooking a much larger amount in a pocket of his grandmother's night dress. He was brought to Marlinton, and is being held in jail for the grand jury. His little brother, Raymond was with him at the time of his arrest.

Clyde Sharp is 21 years old, the son of Cecil Sharp, of Clarksburg. He recently completed a sentence of a year in the penitentiary for stealing an automobile.

Mrs Sharp was the widow of the late Clark Sharp. She was one of the prominent Kittle family of Randolph County. Two of her

DIED

John Randolph Sharp was born in Pocahontas county, Virginia, August 17, 1885. This was a part of Virginia that separated from the rest during the Civil War and formed the state of West Virginia. He lived here until 1882, when he went to Lincoln, Nebraska, where he lived a year going to Valley County in 1883.

He immediately went into the farming and ranching business there. He was married March 24, 1885, to Flora McEachran, of Lincoln. To this union eight children were born, six of whom survive. They are Reese J. Sharp, Kansas City, Missouri; Mrs Margaret Bashaw and Mrs Katharyn Long, of Ord, Nebraska; John R. Sharp, Jr.; who passed away March 11, 1936; Mrs Helen McNell and Edwin Smith, of San Francisco, California, Mrs Ruth Madron, of Norfolk, Virginia, and Mrs Frances Callahan, who died August 21, 1931. Mrs Sharp passed away October 25, 1917.

For the past sixteen years Mr Sharp's daughter, Katharyn has made her home with him and looked after his household. For the past six years he has been partially paralyzed and unable to walk. A final stroke caused his death at 4:00 a. m., Tuesday, February 16, 1937, at the age of 81 years, 5 months and 29 days. In addition to those already mentioned he leaves 15 grandchildren and 4 great-grandchildren.

The crowning virtues of his life were his unswerving honesty and his willingness to help others. A few years ago his passing would have meant much to a large number of people. Today those who knew him bes are few, but their sorrow is none the less sincere —L. R., Ord Nebr.

PRIVATE FIRST CLASS BASIL C. SHARP

Notice came on Monday from the War Department announcing the death of Private First Class Basil Claire Sharp, on December 23, 1944, from wounds received in action in Germany. He was a member of the 45th Division of the Seventh Army. He had been in service about ten months, and overseas since mid-summer.

Basil C. Sharp, aged 30 years, was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest G. Sharp, of Frost. His three brothers, Rex, Lyle and Blair are in the armed service.

He married Miss Jane S. Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin W. Price. She and their three children, Basil Price, John Calvin and Jane Rutledge survive.

Thus is noted the passing of an outstanding young citizen and a brave soldier. He prepared himself for a life of usefulness and leadership. By his own efforts he put himself through college. Upon his graduation at Davis and Elkins College, he taught for five terms in Hillsboro High School and directed athletic activities. In March 1944, he entered the Army.

In religion, Basil was a working member of the Presbyterian Church.

Whether at work or play, in his calling as a teacher or his endeavors as a churchman, in the pursuits of peace or in the grim realities of war, this outstanding young man did with his might what his hands found to do.

"Soldier, rest, thy warfare o'er."

MRS. MARY ALICE SHARP V

Mrs. Mary Alice Gibson Sharp departed this life the 5th day of September, 1944. She was a daughter of the late Lou Gibson and Clara Cleek Gibson. She was born and reared in Bath County, Virginia. She was united in marriage to J. B. F. Sharp, of Frost, about sixty years ago. To this union were born six children. Henderson, Carl and Carrie Harper survive; Bessie McCarty preceded her to the grave.

She is also survived by three full sisters: Mrs. G. E. Thomas, of Hot Springs, Virginia; Mrs. Wheeler Gladwell, of Huntington, and Mrs. Clara Cannon, of Emporia, Kansas; one full brother, John Gibson, of Bushony, Kansas; one half-brother, Earl Gibson, of Emporia, Kansas, and one half-sister, Edith Nelson, of Topeka, Kansas.

Her funeral was conducted at the Frost Church, of which she was a member, by her pastor, Rev. L. E. Saville.

She lived a consistent christian life for many years. Thus we note the passing of a noble woman. She was loved by all who knew her, a loving mother and a devoted friend.

"Let fate do her worst there are moments of joy
Bright dreams of the past which she cannot destroy
That comes in the night time of sorrow and care
And brings back the features that joy used to wear."—Moore

Our loss is heaven's gain

Not for the dead in Christ we weep.
Their sorrows now are over,
The sea is calm, the tempest past,
On that eternal shore.
Their peace is sealed, their rest is sure,
Within that better home,
While we weep and linger here.
Then follow to the tomb.

Dear father and mother your baby
Is sleeping sweetly in the grave,
But its spirit is with our Savior,
Who claimed the life he gave.

God needed a sweet little rosebud
To bloom in his garden fair,
So he took our little darling,
And transplanted her over there.

She's a bud from earth transplanted,
For our coming watch and wait,
In the upper garden growing,
Just within the Golden Gate.

In the beauty of the springtime
uth is always at its best,
t for some unknown reason
d thought Heaven would be rest.

r the life that has departed
To the land of pearls and gold here the angels wait to welcome hee, within its Heavenly fold.

me sweet day we'll meet up yonder hen our sorrows here are past
Will you be our guardian angel elp us anchor Home at last?

elp us tide the stormy billows
When in darkness life to steer oving faith, that Jesus keeps you
We may know that Heaven is near.

In loving memory of Moody Orndoff Sheets, born April 13, 1921 Departed this life March 9, 1924, on Sunday morning oh, how sad and lonely he left us Without his smiling little face and sweet words of such great joy and comfort But the memory will still grow sweeter and brighter for God only give us this little sunbeam a blessing that nothing but Heaven could send to make home more happier and brighter But a dear little life as his was to stay with us short time, but now has gone to make Heaven brighter, where he is safe in the arms of Jesus, free from all sorrow and pain He will never call us again to sit by his chair or tell mother to dress his little head to relieve his suffering through which he was so patient for eleven weeks He would tell us how he would go to church when his head got better Oh! how sad it seems to us that we no more in our home in this world can hear his voice sing and then see him get down on his little knees and pray which he had done so long But then the glorious thought that bring Heaven so near to our aching hearts is that little Moody's smiling face is seen in Heaven today and his voice still sweeter than it was here And now Moody is calling us who he loved so much to come and stay with him and by God's Grace we are going to see him again where we will never have to leave no more It won't be long.

By his loved ones

Died, on March 9, 1924, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Sheets, near Wesley Chapel, Moody Orndorff Sheets, aged two years, eleven months and nine days. Moody was a bright boy for his age and always wanted to attend Sunday and preaching, and said a short time before he died that he loved everybody. We cannot understand why God calls these little ones from our homes, but some day if we live faithful will know. Our homes are made sad but Heaven is made brighter by by these little ones we loved so dearly and that are now with the Heavenly Father who said, Suffer the little children to come unto me. Nearly three months ago Moody was playing with the children of his home and got hit on the head with a stick. All that kind hands and medical skill could do was done for the little sufferer, but God in his mercy called him out of his suffering.

The great Jehovah full of love
  An angel bright did send,
And took our little harmless dove
  To joys that never end.

Quietly sleeping,
  Life's long day past,
No shadow creeping
  Sweet rest at last.

Weary hands folded,
  Aged form still
Toil and care ended
  No more of ill.

Lips that spoke kindly
  Cheerily too,
Gentlest of pilgrims,
  All the way through.

Sadness and sorrow
  Tears that flow down
But to our brother
  The joy and crown. W.
